OBUTSUDAN

Something that temple members may not be aware of is that in the storage and preparation area behind the naijin, there are a number of old obutsudan (home altars). I travel a lot for my research and to speak at temples, and this is a very common phenomenon, because sometimes when a family can't take care of an obutsudan anymore they turn it over to the local temple for safe-keeping. I've always been intrigued by these old obutsudan: what are their stories? What will happen to them now that they've come to the temple? So finally I decided to start a new research project on the subject.

Once I started working on old obutsudan, it got me thinking about ones that are still in people's homes too. Do people use them? If so, how, and how often? Do people today like traditional ones with a wooden cabinet, or are tastes and practices changing? We all have a sense of what Buddhist practice is like at the temple, but what is Buddhism like at home?

Since my sabbatical in Hawai'i last year, I have been collecting stories about people's obutsudan, whether they are ones in their homes now, ones in their parents' or grandparents' homes, or ones that have gone back to the temple or been retired in some other way. What I've learned so far has already been extremely interesting, and has shown me the diversity of experiences that people have with obutsudan. There are people who chant Shoshinge at the obutsudan twice per day, others who put their hands together in gassho and say nembutsu in the morning, and some who never really interact with the obutsudan but are glad it's there in the home. Some use it as a place of meditation, some use it to show gratitude to their ancestors, while others use it to meet the Buddha and be reminded of the Buddha-dharma in their daily lives.

The physical obutsudan are so interesting too. Some people have big black lacquered ones sent from Japan. Some have more modest ones made in North America—sometimes even relics from the internment camps, made of scrap lumber and lovingly cared for through hard times. Sometimes people create a simple altar with a picture of the Buddha or omyogo (Namo Amida Butsu in calligraphy), without any box at all. There are strict altars with only official adornments, altars with pictures of loved ones and ihai (memorial plaques), and altars covered with all sorts of cherished objects, many of them not Buddhist. Many people have nostalgic memories about watching their grandmother make offerings at the obutsudan when they were little. Others are confused about how to use obutsudan, and a few are even afraid of them!

I thought that ministers would have a stricter view of obutsudan, but in my interviews they are often very flexible and care primarily about meeting the needs of regular people. While they will teach about the correct use of obutsudan, they usually accept that people adapt the practice and altar to their own lives.

I'd like to hear your obutsudan stories too. If you're willing, please get in touch with me at jeff.wilson@uwaterloo.ca, so that I can learn about your obutsudan. If you know someone who used to have one but doesn't anymore, I'd be interested in being put in touch with them as well: sometimes they have very useful stories that help me understand the changing patterns of Buddhism in North America. I will keep everyone's personal identities private, but if there are particularly useful or moving stories, I might ask permission to share the general outline of the story so that others can learn from my project as well. I've already received some very touching stories, and plan to share them with you as my research continues.

2019 Obon Weekend

July 13 and 14, 2019

Obon is an opportunity for us to reflect upon and express our gratitude for the innumerable causes and conditions that influence our lives; and for the benefits we have received from who have come before us. It is with this understanding that we visit the graves of our loved ones and attend memorial services. Our visitation to the cemetery, conducting memorial services and dancing are expressions of the gratitude that arises when we embrace the Truth of those causes and conditions of our life.

This year Obon Festivities and Services will be held on the 13th and 14th of July. On Saturday morning please visit cemeteries as listed in the schedule below for a short chanting in respect of your loved ones. Later in the evening, please join us at the Japanese Canadian Cultural Centre in the evening at 7:00 p.m. for a short service followed by Obon dancing. On Sunday, there will be a 9:00 am service for the Hatsubon (first year) families, a regular English service at 11:00 am and a service in Japanese at 2:00 pm. Please bring your homyos and lanterns which can be picked up after the service. Homyos for the Hatsubon families can be picked up downstairs in the social hall following the service.

We look forward to hearing our honoured guest speaker for Obon Weekend who will be Rev. Brian Kensho Nagata.

OBON GUEST SPEAKER

Sunday, July 14, 2019

Rev. Brian Kensho Nagata is a fourth generation Californian born and raised in Fowler, California near Fresno. He attended the Buddhist Church of Fowler, which is one of the original Buddhist Churches of America's temples. He was active in Dharma School, Boy Scouts and Western Youth Buddhist League California.

After working in several offices for Mitutoyo Corporation, he was assigned to the Numata Center in Berkeley, California to oversee the BDK English Tripitaka Project which is translating the Buddhist Canon (the teaching of Shakyamuni Buddha) from Classical Chinese into English (this project will probably take several hundred years to complete) and the Numata Program in Buddhist Studies which works with several North American Universities--including the University of Toronto/McMaster University, McGill University and the University of Calgary--to enhance their Buddhist Studies programs. Brian serves as an advisor to the American Buddhist Study Center in New York City and the Ekoji Buddhist Temple in Washington, DC. He also volunteers for the Hongwanji IMOP program, at the Buddhist Churches of America's Center for Buddhist Education (CBE) where he cofounded the "TechnoBuddha" program for young adults, which has attracted some young members from several British Columbia temples, and he leads CBE Study Tours to Japan.

He has worked for Mitutoyo Corporation for 30 years and is currently serving as a director of both Bukkyo Dendo Kyokai America and Bukkyo Dendo Kyokai Canada. He last gave an Obon Dharma Talk at TBC in 2014.

Memorial (Shotsuki) Listing for the Month of AUGUST

Our monthly memorial services (shotsuki) are usually held on the first Sunday of each month (please check our temple calendars to confirm the day of the monthly memorial service) to remember and honour those who have passed away in that month regardless of year.

Usually, mail reminders are sent out to the next of kin but due to changing circumstances we have not always been able to reach families and hope that by publishing the names of those who have passed, we can still reach and remind families and dear friends of the month of their loved ones honouring.

Below is our listing of our members and supporters who have passed away during the month of August . All are invited and welcome to attend.

Memorial (Shotsuki) Listing for the Month of September

Our monthly memorial services (shotsuki) are usually held on the first Sunday of each month (please check our temple calendars to confirm the day of the monthly memorial service) to remember and honour those who have passed away in that month regardless of year.

Usually, mail reminders are sent out to the next of kin but due to changing circumstances we have not always been able to reach families and hope that by publishing the names of those who have passed, we can still reach and remind families and dear friends of the month of their loved ones honouring.

Below is our listing of our members and supporters who have passed away during the month of September. All are invited and welcome to attend.

Rally Sunday

September 8, 2019

After the summer break, we invite everyone back to the Temple for "Rally Sunday" on Sunday, September 8, 2019 - the start of a new season of services and activities. Many of the Temple groups will be preparing display boards, artwork and displays. Join us after the morning service and check out the different activities you can join.

September 8 is also the September Monthly Memorial (Shotsuki), a time to remember family, friends and loved ones who have entered Nirvana in previous Septembers. Please remember to bring your loved ones' homyo cards.

The Kids Sangha services and programmes also resume on Rally Sunday at 10.30am.

We look forward to seeing you!

Wishing everyone a safe and restful summer.

TBC Annual Picnic

Our 2019 picnic was held again at Camp Green Acres in Markham on Sunday June 9th. With bright sunny skies and warm temperatures it was an enjoyable day spent with family and friends. All those attending were able to take part in the various activities held such as the kids craft table, yoga, the open air service, free hot dogs, wagon rides, swimming, races and Bingo.

Thank you goes out to the many helpers: Ann and Fred, Jessica, Denise, Mike, Cary, Rachel, Dave as well as the countless others who worked tirelessly behind the scenes. We also can't forget thanking all the donors for contributing to the Fukubiki bags and bingo prizes.

Congratulations to those people who won at Bingo and the Share The Wealth draw.
